Nationally Competitive

The Carnegie Foundation classifies the University of Arkansas among the few U.S. colleges and universities with the highest level of research activity. Each year, our students win national scholarships that support their academic and career goals.

Coleman Warren, an honors industrial engineering and political science student, was named a 2022 Rhodes Scholar and a 2021 Truman Scholar. After studying comparative social policy at Oxford University, he plans a career addressing societal inequities, specifically child hunger.

Student Centered

Study abroad is an important part of the college experience for many students, and the U of A offers support and advice every step of the way. For El Dorado native Breanna Kilgore, coming to the U of A meant expanding her world both literally and figuratively. An honors biomedical engineering student, she received a Benjamin A. Gilman Scholarship to study global health and public policy in Switzerland.

University Housing

University Housing strives to create a community for all students. More than just a place to sleep, residence halls at the University of Arkansas provide space to live, learn and develop lifelong friendships. With designated upperclassmen halls, transfer students will find opportunities to connect with similar students.

For more information about living on campus, visit housing.uark.edu.

Campus Dining

The U of A offers a variety of meal plans from Campus Dining with a mix of dietary options prepared by skilled chefs and dedicated staff. Stop by the "all-you-care-to-eat" dining halls or the food court in the Arkansas Union. Visit one of the many restaurants on campus, or grab a quick snack at one of the several campus convenience stores or coffee shops.

For more information about dining on campus, visit housing.uark.edu/dining.

Office of Career Connections

The Office of Career Connections provides many career readiness services and hosts career fairs throughout the year. Career Connections offers career education services, such as coaching, tips for developing a professional reputation and interviewing for new opportunities, assistance with application materials, resources to practice networking, and search strategies.

For more information visit career.uark.edu.

University Recreation

The four-story Health, Physical Education and Recreation building, a part of University Recreation (UREC), offers students access to an Olympic-sized swimming pool, an indoor track, workout and weight room, climbing walls, gymnasiums, outdoor rental equipment and much more. UREC facilitates club sport teams that compete against other collegiate club teams. Students can sign up for university-led outdoor trips ranging from day hikes to week-long backpacking trips to the Grand Canyon.

For more information about club sports and recreation on campus, visit urec.uark.edu.

Online Programs

Interested in pursuing your degree 100% online?

University of Arkansas ONLINE programs are designed by academic departments on the Fayetteville campus to offer you another path to earning a degree from a top-tier public research university. Online programs give you the flexibility to balance family, work and school responsibilities. You do not have to put your life on hold while working toward a better one.

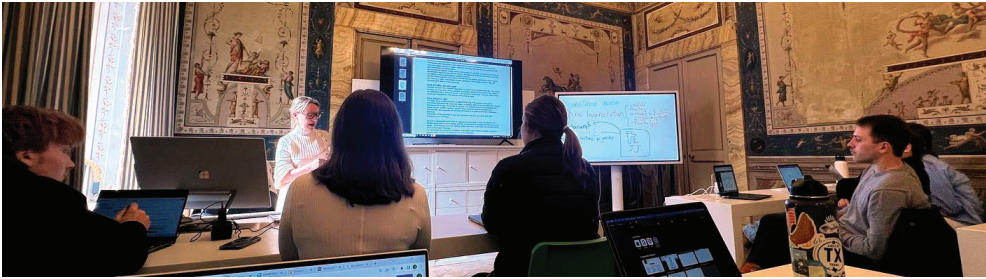

The application process and deadlines are the same as our traditional programs, but not every academic program is available as an online option.

Students who study online at the University of Arkansas become part of an enduring community of passionate learners and teachers. Here, quality is important.

To explore these programs and learn more about tuition, fees and support available to online students, visit online.uark.edu. Or please contact us at online@uark.edu, 800-952-1165 or (479) 575-6493.

Study Abroad

Learning extends beyond the classroom at the University of Arkansas. Students interview Tibetan refugees in India, study art and economics at the University's Rome Center, engage in complex "glocal" issues through the Arkansas Changemakers Program and make lasting connections at partner universities all over the world. For more information, visit studyabroad.uark.edu.

Who is eligible to study abroad?

University of Arkansas students who are in good academic standing and who have completed at least 24 credit hours with the U of A are eligible to look into study abroad. Every study abroad program may have its own requirements beyond these basics, so check the program application for more on the specific expectations for your program.

How do I fund my study abroad?

Most of the scholarships and financial aid that you currently receive at the University of Arkansas may be used to study abroad on an approved study abroad program. In addition, there are multiple funding opportunities for non-Honors and Honors students through colleges, departments, and special funding sources for U of A students.

Home of the RAZORBACKS®

The University of Arkansas is home to one of the most successful intercollegiate athletics programs in the nation. With 19 varsity sports programs, the Razorbacks consistently rank among the best in the Southeastern Conference (SEC) and nationally.

Razorback student-athletes also succeed both on the field and in the classroom. In 2022-23, Arkansas won two NCAA and five SEC championships and for the third-consecutive year ranked in the top-15 of the Learfield Directors' Cup, a competition that tracks the most successful athletics programs in the country. In 2022-23, 98 percent of Razorback student-athletes that completed their athletics eligibility also added their names to Senior Walk as graduates of the University of Arkansas.

The Arkansas Razorbacks don't just represent the University of Arkansas – they are the pride of the entire state. There is nothing like the experience of 'Calling the Hogs' with thousands of your closest friends. The Hog Call is one of the most unique and recognizable chants in all of sports. And it's loud – really loud.

The U of A also hosts a large variety of club and intramural sports, which are some of the most popular student activities. Over 3,000 students each year participate in various organized sports both on campus and against intercollegiate teams.
