UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

The University of Arkansas is a place where dedicated and creative people are building a better world. To us, this is just what it means to be a RAZORBACK.

NATIONALLY COMPETITIVE

Each year, University of Arkansas students win national scholarships that support their academic and career goals. Samia Ismail, an honors biomedical engineering student, was named a 2019 Harry S. Truman Scholar, one of 62 in the nation. Committed to a lifetime of public service, she plans to improve healthcare access for Arkansans.

U of A honors agricultural business alumna Victoria Maloch was awarded a 2018 Marshall Scholarship that provides funding for graduate study in the United Kingdom. She is pursuing a master’s degree in comparative social policy at Oxford University.

Learn more about the U of A’s history of nationally competitive awards at awards.uark.edu.

STUDENT CENTERED

Study abroad is an important part of the college experience for many students, and the U of A offers support and advice every step of the way. Sabrina Rivas received a Benjamin A. Gilman Scholarship to study graphic design and art history in Rome, Italy. An art education major, she will draw upon her experience abroad in her future classroom as an art teacher.

Learn more about opportunities to study abroad at studyabroad.uark.edu.

RESEARCH UNIVERSITY

For honors mathematics and physics major Tyler Bishop, the University of Arkansas has opened the doors to the world of scientific research. Working under associate professor Salvador Barraza-Lopez, he has performed research that could have applications in the engineering and manufacturing of nanoscale devices. In 2019 he was named a Barry Goldwater Scholar, the nation’s highest honor for undergraduate students in the fields of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics preparing for doctoral studies and research careers in their fields.

Learn more about undergraduate research opportunities at honorscollege.uark.edu/about/research-opportunities.
STUDENT LIFE

Living on campus provides an opportunity for students to extend their learning experiences beyond the classroom, library, and laboratory.

University Housing strives to create a community. More than just a place to sleep, residence halls at the U of A provide space to live, learn, and develop lifelong friendships. Consider being part of a Living Learning Community (LLC), a small group of students who live together, share an interest, and have access to special programs designed for the LLC.

For more information about living on campus, visit housing.uark.edu.

The U of A offers a variety of meal plans from Campus Dining with a mix of dietary options prepared by skilled chefs and dedicated staff. Choose to eat at “all-you-care-to-eat” dining halls or at the food court in the Arkansas Union. Grab a quick snack at one of several campus convenience stores or coffee shops, or visit one of the many restaurants on campus.

For more information about dining on campus, visit housing.uark.edu/dining.

The Center for Learning and Student Success (CLASS+) works with students to refine and strengthen academic skills like note taking, reading, study habits, and time management, all necessary for success at the University of Arkansas, while the Career Development Center helps U of A students discover their interests, values, and skills, and prepares them to start a career after graduation.

For more information visit class.uark.edu or career.uark.edu/cdc.

The four-story Health, Physical Education, and Recreation building (HPER), a part of University Recreation (UREC), provides students with access to an Olympic-sized swimming pool, an indoor track, workout and weight room, climbing walls, four gymnasiums, bike shop, and much more. UREC also facilitates club sport teams who compete against other collegiate club teams.

For more information about club sports and recreation on campus, visit urec.uark.edu.
GET INVOLVED

With over 400 student organizations, the University of Arkansas offers plenty of opportunities to connect outside the classroom. Enjoy sporting events, art galleries, theatre performances, concerts, films, and more. Join one of the many sports clubs on campus to stay active, or sharpen your skills in the student run radio station (KXUA), television station (UATV), or newspaper (The Arkansas Traveler).
NORTHWEST ARKANSAS
With top concerts, art shows, internationally acclaimed speakers, and a wealth of natural beauty, Northwest Arkansas is alive with things to see and do. Be sure to explore the areas around campus to experience all NWA has to offer.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Five steps to funding your education:

1. Apply early for University scholarships, no later than Oct 15 for spring semester or April 1 for fall semester.
   Apply by Feb 15 for fall semester departmental scholarships.

2. Search for private scholarships through local businesses, civic groups, places of worship, and your high school counseling office. Also check websites such as fastweb.com for lists of additional scholarships.

3. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). New students should submit the FAFSA to be considered for Advance Arkansas and other need-based scholarships. Fill out the FAFSA online at fafsa.gov using the University of Arkansas code: 001108.

4. Review the Student Aid Report (SAR) that will be sent to you after your FAFSA is processed. It will include a federally calculated Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and outline any additional required steps you should complete.

5. Receive your award notice from the University of Arkansas, which may include grants, loans, and work-study, as well as merit-based awards and scholarships. This notice may not include all awards.

STUDY ABROAD

Learning extends beyond the classroom at the University of Arkansas. Our students interview Tibetan refugees in India, study art and economics at our Rome Center, engage in community development in Belize, Mozambique, and Vietnam, and make lasting connections at partner universities all over the world.
The Honors College brings together top students and professors in a learning environment that fosters discovery, creativity, and service. Being part of the Honors College will allow you to:

- Participate in honors courses on interdisciplinary, cutting-edge topics
- Conduct hands-on research with a faculty member
- Engage with local and global communities through service learning
- Apply for competitive grants to support research and study abroad
- Serve as a leader on campus and beyond
- Make lifelong friends in the honors community

TRANSFER HONORS COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

Transfer students must be successfully admitted to the University of Arkansas before beginning the Honors College application process. If you don’t meet the requirements for honors when you enter the U of A, you may be eligible to join as a current student if you establish a strong academic record at the University. You should consult the honors program director in your academic college for specific information on honors eligibility requirements.
